G. O. P. Council Thinks Party Suffers At Hands of Wealthy Benefactors

Answers to Questionnaire Suggests a Subscribing Membership—Republicans Need Progressive Program and Reliable Candidates, They Say.

Results of the survey made by the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women to determine "why we lost on November 7" and to furnish constructive suggestions for achieving victory in 1946 have been announced by Mrs. S. L. Veitch, chairman of the political activities committee. "Well over 30 per cent of the members answered the questionnaire," said Mrs. Veitch in a letter reporting the results to Mrs. Hannah Durham, chairman of the State Council's political activities committee. A chart was enclosed showing what the contributors thought were the contributing factors in the defeat of the 1944 campaign. Twelve political activities were listed in the questionnaire and the members rated them in the order of their importance in the waging of the campaign.

Some of the suggestions offered to help achieve victory in 1946 were also summarized in Mrs. Veitch's report as follows: "Start now to build a strong political organization with a progressive program offering only efficient, able, and reliable candidates."

"The importance of political education 365 days of the year looking toward especially the education of our youth."

"The Democratic Party has, rightly or wrongly, given the working man a sense of security. The Republican Party must show that we have been, and are behind lots of this social legislation."

"The Republican Party should have most attractive radio commentators with a weekly or semi-weekly schedule during the whole of the next four years to counteract the propaganda, but not by people as Walter Winchell."

"Too many people of the lower wage bracket think of the Republican Party as one of privilege and wealth. This should be corrected."

"Revision of mailing lists might be an economy saving as well as less irritation when three members of one family receive quantities of duplicating literature."

Additional suggestions were given in one member's letter recently at an executive board meeting by Mrs. Veitch: "Neighborhood work must be educational during the 365 days of the year, not a last minute appeal for conversion. It may be difficult to go from house to house in the off-season between campaigns, but the educational programs, but to formulate a foundation for that, I would suggest two things."

"A few definite 'planks' of a platform which the Republican Party really stands on, which it is making its fight. It cannot stand for a New Deal philosophy but promise to handle it better. . . . It must not talk in principles, but not with incumbents."

"I would dramatize a 'subscribing membership' in the Republican Party. It is far better if a vast number of voters become a party to the financing of a political party and its campaign, than that the party feel itself dependent upon the larger benefactions of the few."

Registrars to Sit In 40 Localities If Bill Is Enacted April 28 May Be Last Day to Register

Attention of those citizens of Montgomery County who are eligible but not registered for voting was directed this week to a schedule of traveling registrars of the County Registration Commission. Under the present law, May 21 is the last day to register prior to the Primary Election on June 19. However, if a Bill now in the Legislature is enacted, April 28 will become the last day to register.

Direct Hit Knocks Out Rocket Gun Spotted By Miller

Private First Class John A. Miller, Jr., of 111 Forest Ave., Narberth, serving with the Third Marine Division here, enabling artillerymen to destroy it. Miller, in an observation post, saw white smoke curl up in a peculiar manner after a gun fired some 2500 yards away. He immediately spotted the rocket gun and was told to keep his eyes on the position and let them know what happened. This he did—five hours. Then the gun fired again. Over the fissures of Iowa Jima, he again noticed the trail of smoke and flames, similar to that of a giant Fourth of July skyrocket.

Within five minutes, Marine artillery registered in on the gun and its ammunition, and lit up the sky almost as bright as day with a direct hit.

Police Cooperation Cuts Court Cases

Great Improvement Over 20 Years Ago, Judge Tells Chiefs

Cooperation among police departments as exemplified by the Police Chiefs Association of Montgomery County has resulted in a lessening of the case load in the county courts, declared President Judge Harold G. Knight Thursday night at the 14th annual dinner of the association at the Manufacturers Country Club, Oreland. More than 300 members and guests attended.

"The organization of the Police Chiefs Association in 1931 was the greatest step made in law enforcement in the county during the last 20 years," said Judge Knight. "It has promoted cooperation and friendly feelings. Police know each other and work together."

"We have about the same number of cases each year but we don't have more than a fifth as many trials as we had nearly 20 years ago. The police work is much better today. As a consequence cases are developed better and about 90 per cent of the defendants enter pleas of guilty."

Other factors listed by Judge Knight as contributing to the general improvement in the position of court cases was the court's policy of uniform sentences and frequent sessions of miscellaneous court and the case preparations by the District Attorney's office.

"The police officers of today as compared to those of 30 years ago are like a 1910 model Ford as compared to a 1941 model," said Judge Knight. "The police today are well-trained. They receive not only a good education but a good one. They are paid enough so that they do receive intelligence and integrity are attracted to the police business and make it their life work."

Order Land Bought To Build School

Rosemont Residents Lose Protest in Lower Merion

With dramatic abruptness the Lower Merion School Board concluded hearings Monday night on the proposed purchase of school site in Rosemont and appropriated money for the purchase of the land.

The end of the third hearing for a protesting group of Rosemont citizens came when Dr. Joseph W. Anderson, school director, made a motion that the Board's previous action in approving the purchase be ratified. School directors unanimously approved the resolution.

Suddenness of the action left the delegation of five Rosemont citizens and their wives a little stunned.

It was Frank H. Jackson, Beech Rd., Rosemont, who recovered sufficiently to ask the School Board if their group would be consulted about the architecture and landscaping of the new school before it was built.

Everett E. Burlingame, president of the board, told Jackson plans were too far in the future to discuss the construction. He said that no plans had been prepared and no architect had been retained.

"It's a brush off," said Jackson as he departed with the Continued on Page Two

Home Renovated, Wedding, Fire, Burns

Everything Happens to B. M. Lawyer

Everything happened to Attorney Joseph Harrison, Summit Grove Ave., Bryn Mawr, on Sunday.

After putting the finishing touches on the renovation of his home for the wedding of his cousin fire broke out and the wedding had to be postponed and then moved to his brother's home.

After the ceremony he returned out again. While fighting the fire his right hand was severely burned.

For several weeks Harrison has had paperhangers, painters and other workmen at his home fixing it up for the wedding of his cousin, Miss Bertha Lerner, 1000 Lancaster Ave., Bryn Mawr, to Dr. Greenberg, Philadelphia manufacturer.

Harrison was in the cellar when a boy called to advise him his house was on fire. "This was at noon."

Harrison dashed from the cellar to the yard, found smoke pouring from the wooden shingle roof. He called the Bryn Mawr Fire Company and two neighbors.

After the fire was out, Harrison, the latter an investigator in the Inheritance Tax Office here, had put calls in before he did. When he hung up the receiver the

With Easter so near and the weather so fine, our thoughts naturally turn to something new to wear on Easter. And then there are the little early to rise baskets for the little folk. Seems odd this year to see chicks and rabbits and Easter eggs made of wax, and by looking closer to find they have waxed for decorations only. Another year, and no chocolate Easter eggs—but the war can't last forever—and when it over the children will have all the metal toys, rubber balls and Easter eggs, a beautiful America has always provided for them.

Because of Goldsman's week there will be half day sessions on March 23 and 24. Students reading the book The Tale of Two Cities might be interested to hear the radio adaptation over radio station WCAU this Monday evening at 9 P. M.

Main Line Stores To Close Good Friday

The majority of Main Line Stores will observe Good Friday by closing for the three hour period between 12 noon and 3 P. M. on Friday, March 30.

Chain stores, as well as the small stores, the motion picture houses, tap rooms, restaurants, drug stores, and retail stores, all will close during this period.

The Philadelphia Transportation Company will stop every trolley car and subway for one minute of prayer, beginning at 2:59 P. M. It is expected that the Yellow Taxicab Company will follow suit.

It is estimated that while higher education suffered a loss of one third of its enrollment during World War I, it has lost more than 60 per cent during the present war.

PTC Jobs Offer— SECURITY ADVANCEMENT

Harlen J. Tritsch, now in his 27th year with us, has an interesting and important job. As a Supervisor, he checks on the movement of street cars, is on the alert to prevent threatened traffic jams, and to straighten out other emergencies that occur in his territory. In a few words—he keeps the wheels rolling!

But there are other things about PTC work that he likes. He has worked steadily through depressions when employees by the thousands were being laid off in many other kinds of work. He knows that his job offers security to a high degree, because transportation is a business that goes on and on with little fluctuation in the number of employees needed.

Also, Mr. Tritsch has found there is plenty of room for advancement in his chosen work.

If you're thinking about tomorrow—think of PTC.

SPORTS SCENE

Here's hearty congratulations to Coach Ellis Dwyer and his team of little bidders from Radnor High School for as grand and glorious a showing as any school could hope to make in athletics.

It'll ever remain a mystery as to how that little gang did it, but it's down there in the record books for keeps that Radnor, not even figured to win its opening game in District One, marched all the way to the Eastern finals before bowing out of the State PIAA basketball tournament.

Now that Radnor has gotten the taste of State tournament competition we probably can count on the Wayne school being back for more. The Raiders this year have given Radnor the taste of the future a higher goal than they've ever had before and that'll mean a lot. Lower Merion's remarkable tourney success over the years was the determination to succeed in the footstep of the great teams of the past.

And this particular Radnor team will ever be an inspiration and an example to every team in the suburbs that has a chance. "Remember Radnor in 1945" will become the slogan for many a team that hasn't height or isn't conceded a chance. Courage, hustle, determination, aggressiveness, plus good coaching, do pay off. Radnor proved it.

Bill Anderson and Steve Jueger, L. M. and Haverford coaches, and countless followers of their respective teams were among the 6,000 who were coming for another Radnor upset against Allentown. The upstate fans were confident they were going to win by 20 points or more so the close struggle was a source of satisfaction for local fans.

Haverford followers weren't particularly impressed with either team and mentally kicked themselves for their team having missed the boat.

Allentown unquestionably has a much better team than it was able to show against Radnor's irritating pressing defense, but we fear the Canaries are too confident for their own good. We have a hunch Donora High, the Western champion, will win the State title Saturday as it has been beating every rival decisively ever since its opening game in the WPIAL series.

Wayne's newspaper finally revealed a bit of unusual interest in the Radnor team last week, printing a photo on page one and using a two column head to tell of the Raiders title conquest in District One.

Usually Radnor's sports events are so covered that the Wayne press that one can scarcely find them. Wonder whether this lack of interest isn't somewhat the reason for Radnor having fewer sports teams than any other school in its class in the Suburban Conference?

According to the Haverford High baseball schedule, released this week, Radnor is reviving baseball after being on the sidelines too, too many seasons.

Superintendent of School F. A. Dubois recommended to the Lower Merion School Board that no deduction be made from the salary of Bill Anderson while he is on leave of absence for rest and treatment of a paralysis of the face. The Board unanimously concurred. Leaving no stone unturned, huh?

Which reminds us: Those persons who are trying to organize pressure to keep "Andy" at Lower Merion are sincere and mean well and it is flattering to "Andy" but at the same time isn't it also just a bit unfair?

Lower Merion has been fortunate to have had "Andy" all these years. He could have had a college job for the asking most any time. But he was content to wait until the right one came along. The Lafayette job is supposed to be that one. It has unlimited opportunities. We hate to see Andy go as much as the next one, but if it's for his betterment we're all for him taking it. He deserves the best break he can get and no attempt should be made to talk him out of it if that's what he wants.

That's the least we owe him for what he's done for Lower Merion and the entire Main Line.

The Old Chapel at West Point contains a memorial plaque to Benedict Arnold, but his name has been deliberately gouged out, leaving only his rank and date of birth.

Narberth on Spot In Title Series With Coatesville

Borough Five Needs Victory Friday to Stay in Running

If the Narberth Legion basketball team expects to win the Main Line League championship it will have to break the jinx at Coatesville—and there is no better time to start than this Friday when the teams clash in the fifth game of their title series.

Coatesville, which finished the regular season in a tie for second place and then eliminated Chester in two straight games in the semifinal playoffs, has won both series games on the Scott High court at Coatesville.

The Lukens Steel A. A. passers won the series opener, 62-47, at Coatesville and, after losing the second game at Bala-Cynwyd Junior High, 43-30, went back to Coatesville last Friday and proved its opening night victory was no fluke by drubbing the borough, 60-40.

This gave Coatesville a 2-1 lead in the series when the teams clashed Wednesday at Bala-Cynwyd. (Too late for result in this edition). If the Coates also won this fourth game, it means they could annex the title with a victory Friday. However, if Narberth squared the series Wednesday, then a victory at Coatesville Friday would put the borough in a position to take the championship in a sixth game at Bala-Cynwyd next Wednesday.

Narberth's victory last Wednesday ended a Coatesville winning streak that had reached eight straight and came so easily there never was any question of the outcome. The borough rolled up a 9-0 lead, led by as much as 26-10 at one point and when the Lukens five rallied to make it 26-20 Narberth spurred quickly and decisively to win going away.

Art Spector, former Villanova star, led Narberth with 13 points. He missed the Friday game at Coatesville because his altimore team was playing Trenton in the American League playoffs and his absence was partly responsible for the one-sided opposite result of Wednesday.

Just as Narberth was handicapped by Spector's absence, so had Coatesville been hindered by the absence of Don Cameron in the Wednesday game. Cameron, hero of Coatesville's opening game victory, was again one of the big guns in its second triumph, getting 13 points on six field goals and a foul toss. But as usual, Don Markward, league's most valuable player, was the biggest pain in the neck to Narberth. He scored ten field goals and a single foul toss for 21 points, thereby boosting his three-game series total to 55 points.

Russ Herriman was high for Narberth with 16 points. This was a good ball game for three periods. Narberth trailed by 25-14 at halftime but managed to draw within four points (31-27) by the end of the third quarter, but then Markward and Cameron went on individual sprees as Coatesville rolled up a series record total of 29 points in the final period.

This was the last game for Vic Butz, one of Coatesville's key players. He entered the Army Monday after contributing nine points in his final court appearance. Composite boxscore of three games:

Laird Robertson Is State Mat King

Haverford Youth Wins 145-lb. Crown in PIAA Tourney

Haverford High School has a state champion—in wrestling. He is Laird Robertson who finished on top of the 145-pound class in the annual state PIAA championship wrestling tournament at Penn State last Saturday.

Having qualified for the big meet in the Western District One tournament at Abington, Robertson pinned Joe Yourchik, of Jefferson High, in three minutes, 58 seconds with a half nelson and crotch hold in a semi-final match in the afternoon at Penn State.

Then in the evening Robertson scored a 3-1 decision over Jim Thompson, of Dubois, to win the much cherished title.

Robertson, an end in football, was the only winner from District One. In fact, only two boys from the Eastern part of the state won in the finals, the other Eastern survivor being a Lancaster High grappler.

Berwyn Boys' Club Quintet Needs Victory Over Narberth To Annex Conference Crown

Narberth Boys Club will have its back to the wall when it opposes Berwyn Boys Club in the second game of the playoff series for the Main Line Basketball Conference championship at Lower Merion's Downs gym Friday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Phil Harman Tallies Four Field Goals In Memorial Game

Members of the Narberth Main Line League team and Phil Harman, Penn star, played on an all-star team Tuesday that helped honor the memory of Ted Dorosh, former Clifton Heights High School star who was killed in action recently.

They were opposed by the Kiwanis All-Stars, chosen from the recent Delco tourney at Chester, at Ridley Township High School. The Kiwanis team finally took the decision in the exhibition, 67-60, after All-Stars had led, 32-28, at half time.

Harman tallied eight points on four field goals while Russ Herriman and Bobby Sulter, of Narberth, scored seven and six points, respectively.

Jim Joyce, of Temple, paced the All-Stars with 19 points, while Jack Kramer, Glen-Nor High, tallied 17 for the Kiwanis squad.

Receipts of the game were turned over to a Dorosh Memorial Fund being raised by a Clifton Heights citizens committee.

The FOUNTAIN of YOUTH

Life! Youth! Vigor! That was the alluring and beckoning vision that led Ponce de Leon on... through the dangerous and unknown land that we call Florida.

Broken in health from his campaign in Porto Rico, this famous Spanish explorer and conqueror eagerly sought, in 1512, the fabulous fountain of magical water that the Indians said was hidden away in this savage and unknown land.

But Ponce de Leon never found his "Fountain of Youth"... which, literally translated, means "Life-Giving Water."

Today, however, we can actually enjoy a "Fountain of Youth" such as Ponce de Leon never dreamed of... an endless supply of pure, safe, drinking water, which is, indeed "life-giving"... because, without water, there can be no life, trees, plants, vegetables, animals or human beings.

Think of the ease and convenience of turning a tap in your home and getting a plentiful supply of life-giving water... all the water you want... twenty-four hours a day... without the slightest effort on your part.

This is the twelfth of a series of narratives which graphically tell the story of water. Look for the next one in this paper two weeks from today.

"I work in a laundry ... I FIGHT FOR VICTORY, TOO"
"I am the wife he left behind. I am one of ten thousand American women. I know that clean clothes are essential to people's morale—necessary to their health."
"I know that more women are working now than ever before. I work in a laundry to keep these women on the job. I know that airplanes, shells, ships and guns are built not only in the war plants, but in laundries and all other businesses which contribute to the home front."
"I know that my employer is short of workers; is bound by many restrictions. But I know he's doing a good job. When peace comes a better laundry service is his promise."
"I am proud to work in a laundry. My job is important, for I fight for Victory, too."
